

00424-0

PATHE GAZETTE: 42/98. (DUBLIN)

SOAP BOX STAKES

One hundred thousand spectators line the Soap Box Derby course at Accron Airport as finalists make a bid for fame and fortune. The racing cars are home made at a cost of not more than ten dollars. Young speed demons flash down the eleven hundred foot track and there are thrills a plenty. Keep your eyes on young Bob Holmes and Allan Cloy racing neck and neck, and the crowd gasp as they crash, but no one is hurt. Here's the final heat, Dick Ballard at left and Bob Virgil rocket down the course. A flash to a photo-finish but Virgil's the winner of a two thousand dollar scholarship.