BLIMP IN THE MAKING

Our cameraman calls on the belles of the blimp at an Ohio yard. Here, most of the work of construction and repair is done by girls. From the gluing and cementing of the bags, to the painting and drying. Maybe you never knew how much had to be done before the balloon went up. The girls walk over the blimp to put air in one end. Now the final inspection, the blimp has been well and truly made.
