

43/46.

"DERBY" DAY AT EPSOM.

An away-from-the-war story exclusive to Pathe Gazette.

And "Austerity" Epsom Derby run in aid of Epsom and Ewell's

WINGS FOR VICTORY week. Champion jockeys riding ponies instead of race horses. Mr. Tom Walls; the now bearded Prince of the Race Course introduces the riders.

And so we come to this novel war-time substitute for the world classic. A three furlong contest with a field of eight starters. Here they come striding down the narrow track flanked on either side by an excited crowd. Little foalers which never aspired to racing getting their big chance at last.

Now the big surprise. No. 8 SAND-A-DEERS comes home the winner, thereby causing a mild stir at a Dorset Convent. Owned by the Reverent Mother Veronica, the gentle SAND-A-DEERS used for training children to ride (but now ridden by E. Smith) to wings to win a Derby victory.
