TITLE.:- MILLIONAIRES IN THE MAKING.

Picture.:- Little ones pay a cent (or a ha'penny) a ride on this home-made Big Wheel. Can you wonder that America has more millionaires than any other country, when they make money at this rate during their holidays? Their little patrons just love it!

Off they go! getting the thrill of their lives at a ha'penny a time.

Whoop! Zoom! What a thing it is to be young.

They don't know the risks they're running.

Still, its a fine machine for money-making. --

And is run on business lines.

Here they are again -- oh! yes, its great fun.

TITLE.:- ARMY MANOEUVRES.

Picture.:- War is a great game, but only when the troops are "just pretending". We've had enough of the real sort! Here are some of the mechanised units of the Northland army coming up to engage Southland -- with infantry in support. Note how they keep to the edge of the road in order to avoid being spotted by enemy aircraft --- Of courses, they are under the protection of anti-aircraft batteries -- here's one making for an advantageous position -- and another ready for action.

Southlanders move up to repel the invading Northland Army -- and having no tanks are compelled to rely mainly upon artillery.

The first shot fired in the war -- in defence, by Southland; and another against the invaders. Of course, Headquarters are informed of the result of the firing.

Northlanders with their mechanised forces invade the Southland in spite of an heroic defence. A triumph of machine over man.

Defeated but not despirited -- and Tommy is glad it wasn't the real thing.

The victors maintain their advantage to the end -- they ride home in their motor cars!
