

(8). TITLE. HIGHER AND HIGHER.

Picture.:- The Chrysler Building was looked upon as the height of New York's building ambition; but that was yesterday, as it were ! To-day they're building a higher one still.

It's enough to give one the willies to see these fellows right up here but --

--ow ! Look at this fellow. Has he got any nerves at all, I wonder ?

One chap refused to come aloft on this job, because there wasn't a "Q" in the month. He was a very good judge too !

That's the Chrysler building which towers above all the others; and this one is going up even higher than that !

This fellow would be nothing without the peak of his cap turned up. I suppose that's so he can see to dodge any aeroplanes which might be coming his way. He looks as though he's packing up and chucking his job, before it chucks him !
