TITLE.:- SHIP SURGERY.

Picture.:- She went ashore last year at Milford Haven. ... Her back was badly strained, and all but broken.

So they towed her round to Cardiff, and set the ship's surgeons to work on her. ... They cut her completely in two, amidship, and then proceeded to build into her a brand new section. ... Here you see the new section, with the "surgeons" at their "all but finished" task. ... It's an ill wind, etcetera ! For --

--the Ruperra's misfortune did somebody good ! It provided work for a number -- --of men, who would otherwise possibly be on the dole. ... The surgeon's work has been successful - and she'll soon be about again !
