(1). TITLE:- CRUISE OF MAISIE GRAHAM.

Picture:- Not one of them is more than sixteen years of age, yet they are off on a great sea-adventure.

Mothers appear to take it more seriously than the boys !

These young Mariners of England are going to sail their schooner across --

--the North Sea and into the Baltic, by way of training for the future. ***** Up come the ship's boats --

--and away goes the Maisie Graham, nosing her way out to sea, carrying a score of youngsters whose chief thoughts are centred on whether the sea is going to interfere with their interest in --

--real times ! ***** I hope not for their sakes, but -- she's rolling a bit !
