TITLE:- BATHING BELLES.

Picture:- Receiving the Key from the Town Clerk, Provost Sinton opens the new pavilion at the splendid bathing pool which is possibly the largest in Scotland.

The crowds are then treated to a lesson in figures - I mean of course, - counting the charming lasses who parade --

--the latest things in bathing costumes and wraps. .... Sales of these useful garments should go up with a rush after this ! ..... Unlike most of the young ladies who display --

--swimming costumes, they swim ! ..... Their diving is not too rugged, either !

They float an aeroplane company (!) or perhaps seaplane would be the better word for it !

Next they present a tug with propellor complete. .... A bright idea for community bathers. ....

They finish up "on the rocks". although it's usually their escorts who have --

--that experience! ..... Dunbar looks rather a nice place to me ! ..... Oh, to be in Scotland now that summer's there !
