

TITLE.:- AFTER 2,000 YEARS.

Picture. :- Two thousand years is a long time ! It takes us back to long before our forefather's started counting the years so that shop-keepers couldn't foist last year's calendars on us in January ! Well, the Emperor Tiberius owned a wonderful luxury ship of those days. After his death it was sunk in the deep waters of Lake Nemi. Now, after draining and pumping out millions of gallons of water, and digging away the accumulations of mud of centuries, the Emperor's galley has been brought to light.

Its construction is undeniable proof of their abilities in ship-building, twenty centuries ago -- and as an antique it is almost enough to make an antique dealer go out of the business of collecting links with the past, and keep rabbits !