TITLE:-- WEEK OF WHOOPEE.

Picture:-- The hospitals want money, so the boy-scouts open the big campaign to extract it from the pockets of the people. They --

--"set things alight" right from the word "Go !" - and make a "flaming" appeal !

A call for more fuel is promptly answered by the Scouts. ... Did you ever know a boy who couldn't be depended on to help at a bonfire ?

With the conflagration lighting up the fore-shore, the Boy Scouts then stage an --

--Indian war-dance for the entertainment of the big crowds. ... Their wierd --

--cries are as the hospitals' call for funds - clear, and undeniable.So much for the first night of -- --Southend's week of "whoopce". The great parade is, however, the feature of the week. It is --

--headed by the Carnival Queen on her silver throne. ...

The procession is nearly six-miles long, and every foot of it,(and every hand,--

--for that matter), is a striking appeal for further funds for the great cause.

Anybody who doesn't "part up" deserves to be put in this part of the show ! ...

Southend will find it easy to remember the summer of nineteen--

--thirty-one - for, a strange to say, it came on Carnival Day !

It is estimated that two hundred-thousand people assembled--

--to see the free show. Most of them put their hands --

--in their pockets - and only a few kept them there !
