PROFESSIONAL PEDESTRIANISM - Brilliant running in the Powderhall Sprint and Marathon, at Edinburgh.

-Scotland-

Picture.:- There were numerous entries for events at the Powderhall ground, Edinburgh. Preparation and start of a heat for the 130 yards handicap.

The winner of this event (not this heat) covered the course in just under 13 seconds, winning by inches.

This is Porteous, who won the heat. Carl won the event.

Here are the competitors assembling for the start of the 10 miles Marathon--

--race. Fifty-three men eager to run ten miles.

It's a breath-taking job. No wonder they do it in short pants. (Oh! Very unworthy!) Not all the-- --runners stay the course. The line soon thins out. One competitor ran only-- --a mile and then deserted at the first bus stop.

Ten miles later four runners approached the tapes. First--

--A.Scally, the winner, and second, P.Kenny the scratch winner. Good lads!
