

PASSOVER - - Ancient rites mark opening of the greatest Jewish Festival, commemorating liberation of Israel from Egyptian oppression.

Picture.:-

Exclusive pictures of the famous Feast of the Sada ceremony which has never before-- --been photographed. With wine, the patriarch leads the prayer--

--commemorating the liberation of the Hebrews from the sufferings--

--of slavery and the lash,--

--under the Pharaoh of Egypt. Following the custom of years,--

--a young Jew asks the meaning--

--of all the parts-- --of the ritual, and the--

--Patriarch explains for the coming generation.

During the ceremony each dips his finger--

--into the wine ten times, an action symbolising--

--the ten plagues visited on the Lord on the-- --Egyptians. For nearly six thousand-- --years this Rite has-- --not changed. Here ancient Israel still-- --lives. Pagan Egypt has-- --passed. Tyrants have become dust. Israel remains.
