-Wimbledon-

Picture. :- The Wimbledon Centre Court is very full to-day; both of people and colour. In the brilliant sunshine it looks quite a dazzling sight. The men's doubles are popular, always providing action and excitement.

Jean Borotra and Brugnon oppose P.D.B. Spence and C.R.D. Tuckey. Borotra and Brugnon are the present holders of the men's doubles championship.

Her Majesty the Queen is present flanked by her brother --the Earl of Athlone and King Alfonso. Brugnon-- --plays and Tuckey returns for Borotra-- --to score from his shot.

Spence gets into action.

Borotra, is, rather as usual,-- --giving the spectators some amusement by his acrobatic girations,-- --and Spence and Tuckey, the-- --British pair are getting the benefit of his slackness.

Now he is beginning to-- --get serious, and the Britishers are not scoring so well.

The Queen's interest is obviously very great. Her Majesty--

--has already stayed much longer than is her usual custom. A spirited rally ! (EFFECTS)

And Borotra and Brugnon remain the holders of the title.

A good match ! The score is 8-6, 6-3, 6-3. (EFFECTS).
