AIR CIRCUS THRILLS.

SIR ALAN COBHAM STARTS HIS TOUR.
AERIAL DARING AT DAGENHAM.

-Essex-

Picture.:-

Sir Alan Cobham, Lady Cobham, and Cobham films inaugurate--
--the opening of the summer's air circus. Tent pegging. If--
--that wing tip goes a couple of inches too low, there will be a secondhand plane going cheap.

There may not be the old--

--romance with machines as opposed to the dashing horse riders, but there's bigger thrill. No wonder---

--the lads crick their necks and keep an eye on them. Even flying under a clothes line--

--has its risks, but this is the hair-raiser, the spine--

--creeper. He says he's perfectly comfortable--

--on the wing, but these stunt merchants are such flyers.

The show is to tour all Britain. It should make Britain--

--sit up and look up. He's just looking for the-- --right moment to step--

--off into space. I hope he finds it, and the-- --moment is just about now. There--

--he goes. (EFFECTS).

That parachute has a nice open--

--look about it, and it's letting--

---him down lightly. The parachutist's name is Iver Price.
Well, whatever price he's worth it.
