

CENTURIES OF HISTORY.

SCOTS GUARDS EXHIBITION.

Picture.:-

One of the most interesting-- --military exhibitions of recent years is that-- --of the Scots Guards. It is honoured by a visit from the Duke and Duchess of-- --York, His Royal Highness being Colonel-- --of the Regiment. Carved wooden statuettes illustrating uniforms--
--worn at various dates claim a lot-- --of attention. And a picture of the Duke-- --of Connaught when aged five years, loaned--
--by His Majesty the King is a most charming study.
From his--
--glass case, Bob the regimental pet, who chased canon balls at Inkerman-- --looks across at a Christmas tree, round which our Men--
--fraternised with the enemy on December 25th, 1915.
The proceeds of the Exhibition are to-- --be devoted to the re-settlement of Guardsmen in civil life--
--after honourable service in the Regiment has qualified them for discharge. An object which will doubtless receive the considerable support necessary to maintain its effectiveness.
