Picture:- Daddy Christmas and Pater Neptune. Father seems mush too--

--dignified for old men with false beards--

--complete with chorus of-- --fairies singing and dancing, visit the-- --'Express of Britain', (The ship, I mean!) before she pushes off for her luxury cruise--

--round the world.

The ship is provisioned for five-- --months feeding and-- --sun chasing. Ice boxes are overflowing with food, and the drug-stores with cures for heart-burn--

--and sunburn. Passengers won't-- --see home port again until after the return of the-- --swallow. Excuse me, steward!

Picture:- In this wrecked school room, Liverpool,--

--the end of term party ended in disaster.

At the height of the fun the entire floor--

--collapsed and hurled two-hundred adults and children--

--into a room twelve feet below. After being extricated themselves, heroic--

--parents worked like trojans rescuing the half buried children from under heaps of beams,-- --wood, and plaster. Luckily none were killed, and few were injured seriously.
