"PETER PAN" HAS PLENTY.

---

Picture. :-

We have often been reminded that horses are intelligent. Here's--

--one which is even more so. He stays at hotels, and signs his--

--mark on the register. His master ties the knot round him, but being at an hotel, he thinks it's unnecessary, and promptly unties it. That horse--

--is nearly human. Seeing a smut on his master's nose, the super gee-gee applies a hankie, and wipes it off. I am not sure he doesn't say "Now, blow".

Who was the guy who said horses were dumb ?

And is he musical ? Well, listen to his cradle song !

And watch him get into his cradle ! If the sheets are not clean, he shows his--

--contempt for bad service. And if he's not properly tucked in, he just does it for himself. Good night, everybody ! Good night !
