

(CONT).

(C) Picture:-

And from Hyde Park to the Old Kent Road. Pearly kings and queens, all buttoned up, make their way to the Church of St. Mary Magdalene for their Harvest Festival. The costers and their families are loaded with gifts of flowers, fruit and veg. Very fine veg too ! Thanks-offerings for distributing to the sick and needy of the parish. The baby's not an offering !

The poor are well supplied with these. The Vicar marshals his feathered flock into the decorated Church, for their special service, where Jim Duckworth, coster monger, and proud of it, will read the Lessons.

---