AFTER THE EARTHQUAKE.
SCENES IN MONTANA, U.S.A.

Picture.:-

Severe earthquake shocks have taken their toll in Montana, America.

The Mayor of Helena, Montana's Capital, takes stock, while buildings still fall round him.

(EFFECTS - 7 SHOTS).

Ambulances have been in demand night and day. Homeless un-injured people find shelter in standing railway trains. Hundreds of children from an orphanage had to hurriedly vacate the building and many are accommodated in these novel refuges. The tremors lasted fourteen days, during which terrifying time the Sisters of Mercy
mothered and cared for these poor homeless orphans.
