

(C)

Picture :-

Only a few miles from the famous ruins of Melrose Abbey, monks of the Order of the White Fathers are building their own monastery. Members of the Order undertake all the planning and labour involved, for many of them are skilful workers in almost every branch. Others are being trained by those of experience. The stone is brought from the River Tweed. It is estimated that this brave undertaking will not be completed for ten years. A labour of love indeed !

---