

GRAND NATIONAL

SUNDAY

CROWDS VIEW "THE JUMPS"

Picture.:-

Nothing seems to be going quite right, so let's be morbid. This is the Grand National course. This is where you will book a cert, which will probably fall at the first fence. This is Prince Momolulu, the nag who gives you a cert. I say give. It's really sell! Here's Valentine's Brock, where many a lost bob has found a watery grave. Of course our horse might win. It might get scarlet fever too. But even if it does win, our bookie will probably be a welsher. That's Becher's. Remember our cert which crossed his legs there last year. Even after I had crossed my fingers. It is a great race and all that. But what's the use?
