In Pakistan --- when Nature stragedies occur they do it en a big scale. From the cause of melting snews and monscen rains, the effect was the fleeding of five rivers --- and this. American Globemasters assisted in the rushing of supplies to the stricken area --- including drugs for the prevention of typhus and cholera. The estimated number of people driven from home --- is fifteen million.

DUTCH ROWING.

News of the Day from Helland, is the finals of the Rewing Championships in Amsterdam. And here go the eights --- with Yugoslavia, Russia, Czechoslovakia and Denmark competing. This was another triumph for the newcomers to international rewing. The Russian crew were the winners --- and they broke another record on the way.

PARIS FASHIONS.

From Paris we bring you a preview of seme of the mi autumn and winter collection of the famous Jacques Fath --- and these seasons, we are teld, are going to be remarkable for the H-Leek. It seems a shame, because the wives of the men with the L.S.D. so minim often have the O-Leek. In another selection of evening gowns is one of gauze and all of them have that certain "catching-the-eye" Leek. But don't think she means it didn't cost very much, if the girl who is wearing it, tells you it's next to nothing.

MERMAID CONTEST.

At Margate they held a nevel bathing-beauty competition where some of the girls put on a fish-tail to represent mermaids, while others concentrated on if winter comes. Therexemperation department department department department in the walking competition one of the girls was teld to concentrate on the pease but she said -- Mayaramakkalixamaximayimaxakamaimax "What's the use? They're asleep." However, there's no deubt, it added nevelty to the late summer heliday --- and the Miranda of Margate, was Miss Jill Bauly.
