WEDDING.

When a man and a girl get married --- it's normally quite an occasion on its own account. But this young couple in Paris, decided ~~fixxxxxxxx~~ that the happy day needed something extra; so they dressed in the costume of nineteen-hundred, and drove to the wedding in veteran cars of fifty years ago. ^ It seems a funny thing to do; but it'll give them something to talk about on the honeymoon. <sup>20</sup>

BARREL SLIBING.

The Saints' Day Celebrations in this little town in Austria, include the ceremony of the giant barrel. <sup>6</sup>/<sub>2</sub> The barrel was made two hundred and fifty years ago; and sliding off it has become the symbol of the hen-pecked husband. In other places, of course -- he just goes through the hoop. <sup>9</sup>/<sub>1</sub>.

WILD ANIMALS.

André Mercier is a hunter of wild animals..... who has caught, in Africa, many animals for the Paris Zoo. So when he visits the Zoo, he likes to demonstrate that wild animals are not ~~wild~~ really wild, if only you know how to handle them. He even maintains that a panther is a most friendly creature, who dearly loves to play games; but our News in a Flash Cameraman was afraid he might be awarded an indirect free bite. X Imagine what happens when he goes to the flea-circus. <sup>25</sup>/<sub>6</sub>

GRASSHOPPERS.

Morecco is a place where they get all kinds of trouble; and following the recent terrential rains, they have suffered a plague of grasshoppers. The Government gave full backing to the urgent measures taken to destroy the pests --- which ravaged hundreds of thousands of acres. <sup>12</sup>/<sub>6</sub>

VIET MINH TROOPS.

Under the Geneva agreement --- Viet Minh troops are evacuating Cochin-China.... and taking them, were fleets of Russian and Polish ships. <sup>10</sup>/<sub>13</sub> But many refugees from the Communist régime, sailed independently on rafts --- some of them nearly under water. Giving thanks for the ending of another war. <sup>22</sup>/<sub>6</sub>.
