ROYAL ACADEMY.

29/4/55.

For the Summer Exhibition at Burlington House --- which is otherwise the annual opening of the Royal Academy --- there was the customary forecourt appearance of the 21st Special Air Service Regiment --- formerly known as the Artist's Rifles....And inspection by the Frime Minister, who was guest of Honour at the Academy Dinner. Now we are manual to show the Selection Committee of

Now we are platinged to show the Selection Committee of Academicians, choosing works to be hung on the line in the Popul Academicians, choosing works to be hung on the line in the Popul Academicians, choosing works to be hung on the line in the Popul Academicians, choosing works to be hung on the line in the Popul is selected --- not that the Academician would like to be elsewhere Before the opening to the general public, there is the customary Private View Day --- at which the privileged get first look at the work of the undernourished. Among the former were the Hon. Gerald Lescelles and Mrs Lascelles: also famous artist Mr Frank O. Salisbury

--- and several models who looked a picture