

This was Newcastle --- on the great day when Jimmy Scoular and his boys of Newcastle United carried home the F.A. Cup.

And another welcome home of the sporting world for Len Hutton --- captain of England's victorious Test Team --- returning to Tilbury Docks after the sea voyage from Australia.

Which brings us to the cricket season at home for what we hope will be the summer of 1955. In a few brief flashes of the South Africans' opening ^{major} match at Worcester --- here's Whitehead bowling to Goddard.

Now it's Perks --- to Waite.

And Berry to Cheetham --- who is smartly caught at the wicket. The result was a win for Worcester --- by 117 runs.
