

In Paris --- this was the first meeting of the new French Parliament, following the General Election which returned the Communists as the largest single Party. All the Deputies, seem to be saying polite and cheerful things to each other outside the Chamber; ~~inside ---~~ ^{inside ---} /they'll ~~soon~~ ^{soon} get back to normal.

POUJADE DEPUTIES.

At Fontainebleau, near Paris --- here's the inauguration-picture of the new political party. M. Pierre Poujade --- whose party won fifty-two seats at their first attempt --- has a meeting with the brand-new deputies who bear his ~~name~~ name.

GREEK RADIO TRANSMITTER.

Politics in Greece. In a suburb of Athens, security men raided a house, and found an illegal printing press, run by the Greek Communist Party.

In another house in the same district, another raid uncovered a secret wireless transmitter.

AEROCYCLE.

A model demonstrated at Camp Kilner, New Jersey, promises that the infantryman of the future, is to be more mobile than ever. It's an aerocycle, designed to carry a weight of over twenty stone --- at a speed of sixty-five miles an hour. It has a cruising-range of a hundred-and-fifty miles --- and it can come down, with equal ease, on land or on the water.

SKI-BOB.

At Bayrischzell, not far from Munich, this was the championship meeting for the German Ski-Bobs. A ski-bob, is a sort of do-it-yourself bike.

There were many falls, which had ^{the} effect of upsetting the nerves of some of the competitors. One was so shaken --- he imagined he heard the voice of ^a back-seat driver; ~~the~~: "George! You've gone the wrong way!"

At a meeting of the Norge Ski Club at Fox River Grove near Chicago, the falls included one that spoilt the longest jump of the day. ~~MM~~

Then came the club's captain, Art Tokle. He was eleven feet shorter on distance covered; but with a leap of one hundred and seventy eight feet --- he kept his feet and won the championship.

Now to Austria --- where the downhill and slalom events attracted a big field of competitors --- and spectators who included Sir John Hunt. ^

International aces training for the Olympics put up some ~~xxxx~~ terrific speeds -- with spills to match.

The winner was Toni Sailer, of Austria. /
