In Moscow --- this was an exhibition of American Balloons which came down in Russia carrying radio and photographic equipment. A Soviet Foreign Ministry spokesman said they were used for aerial photographic reconnaissance. United States authorities have said, however, that the equipment is purely meteorological.

SUSPENDED FURNITURE.

Here is the ultra-modern in furnishing ideas, from a home in California. Legless furniture --- suspended from the ceiling. In this house they went for the scheme whole-heartedly and even suspended the fireplace. They say it makes it easier to sweep the carpet, and baffles the guest who throws his fag-ends under the couch. But it'll be a knock-out for sex-appeal, if the legless-furniture age is going to breed a race of legless women.

TEXAS SNOW.

News from Texas --- and weather news at that. The heaviest snowstorm for fifty years --- did this.

Earliest reports gave more than twenty lives lost in the blizzard: and still more snow on the way!
