

MALAY WEDDING.

One of the most picturesque weddings for many years ~~xxxxxxx~~ ~~which~~ saw the ceremonial union of two royal families in Malaya..... the young Raja Muda of Kedah and his lovely young bride, Tengku Bahiyah, daughter of the ruler of a neighbouring sultanate. Sir Donald McGillivray, the High Commissioner of Malaya, was one of the guests who took part in the traditional ceremonies. Another tradition was observed when the other guests threw coloured water over each other.

ACKROYD WEDDING.

And in London, the arrival of Pikemen was a touch of tradition supplied at the wedding, at St Michael's Church of Miss Jennifer Bishop.

The reason was that Miss Bishop was the bride of Mr John Ackroyd --- who is the ~~xxxx~~ son of the Lord Mayor of London.

OSCAR AWARDS.

In Hollywood --- the Academy Awards known as Oscars were presented to the year's winners; but the "best actress" award was presented to a substitute, as Anna Magnani was unable to be present.

The year's "best actor" award went to Ernest Borgnine; --- ~~xxx~~ he received it from Grace Kelly.

PRINCE RAINIER.

And --- speaking of Grace Kelly --- reminds us that the movements of Prince Rainier are now news. Here ~~he~~ he was leaving America to prepare for the happy and glamorous event in Monaco.

JOE LOUIS WRESTLING.

Washington was the American city chosen for Joe Louis, the former boxing heavyweight champion of the world, to make his debut as a wrestler. He's meeting a fellow named Cowboy Rocky Lee. And the famous old Brown Bomber, doesn't seem quite as much at home as when he went fighting with gloves on in the days of his dazzling glory. Third man in the ring is another former champion --- Jersey Joe Walcott.... and it all seems kinda screwy to him, too. So Joe Louis decides to finish it in the good old-fashioned way.
