

This atomic reactor is being built in Canada, as a joint Canadian and Indian enterprise. It will cost fourteen million dollars, of which Canada will pay half. Indian contractors and labourers will carry out the construction work and it will be set up near Bombay --- an example of collaboration under the Colombo Plan

MISS CANADA.

Twenty-five competitors from all parts of Canada were semi-finalists in the contest to select Miss Canada, 1956. Those twenty-five were whittled down to ten; and from those ten the judges chose a girl from Montreal. She was twenty-five-year-old Dorothy Moreau.

~~Competitors were chosen on beauty, intelligence and personality.~~ Miss Moreau can also sing.

TROTTING IN GERMANY.

Trotting is usually associated with the southern states of America --- but here's an international race between Holland, France, Sweden and Germany --- and it's in Hamburg. The trick in trotting is to get there first without breaking into a gallop --- like a dowager in a theatre interval, making her way to the bar

First and second were both German-bred horses; and the winner was decorated with a laurel wreath

PRIMITIVE LIVING.

The man bringing in a meal of snails in his hat, is one of a group of young men who have decided to live, for a spell, in caves in a remote district of France. They took no food with them; and even their fires they ^{lit} ~~light~~ in the manner of the men who lived thousands of years ago. Their object was to find out if twentieth-century men could live in the manner of a prehistoric Adam; no doubt some twentieth-century ^{Eve} will soon turn up and tell them.
