TITLE.:- H.M.S. CRYSTAL PALACE.

Picture.:- During the war, the Crystal Palace was His Majesty's Ship "Victory VI", and many thousands of men --

--had their first experience of naval life in this famous old land ship.

After all these years they meet again to see the --

--White Ensign once more hoisted to the mast head. This time it is in honour of the re-union of men of the Royal Naval Division. Over 120,000 --

--officers and men passed through the big glass "ship" during the years of the war, and many of them --

--are glad to be able to tread the decks of the old ship again. But much as they --

--loved the flag, it's nice to know they can go home to the missus, nowadays.
